EXHIBIT A

1. That the San Juan River Basin in New Mexico Navajo Nation Water Rights Settlement Agreement ("Settlement Agreement"), dated April 19, 2005, is the product of good faith, arms-length negotiations;
2. That the provisions contained in the Settlement Agreement and the Proposed Decrees will reduce or eliminate impacts on junior water rights, including:
 - a. any and all mitigation actions included in the Settlement Agreement and the Proposed Decrees, and the extent to which such provisions will reduce or eliminate impacts on junior water rights;
3. That the priority and quantity of the water rights of the Navajo Nation are less than provided in the Settlement Agreement. In this regard, the following shall be subjects of interrogation:
 - a. All lands for which water rights have been claimed;
 - b. Domestic, Commercial, Municipal, and Industrial water right claims;
 - c. Past, present, and future heavy industrial water right claims, including claims related to energy development and mineral extraction, and agricultural industries;
 - d. Past, present, and future livestock water right claims;
 - e. Past and present irrigation on Navajo trust lands;
 - f. Future irrigation water right claims associated with the Navajo Indian Irrigation Project;
 - g. Future irrigation water right claims not associated with the Navajo Indian Irrigation Project;

- h. Present and historic water right claims for water impoundments and storage on Navajo trust lands;
 - i. Present and historic water rights claims for wells and springs on Navajo trust lands; and
 - j. Any other water rights claims of the Navajo Nation;
4. That the Settlement Agreement is consistent with public policy.
 5. That the Settlement Agreement is consistent with applicable law.
